Imagine you discovered a land of gold so big that you could never extract it working alone. So, you approach your family, friends and everybody you know and tell them to bring their picks and shovels because they can have all the gold they find – its theirs for the taking. Some of them don't believe you but that doesn't dampen your enthusiasm because you know the gold is there. You continue to offer the opportunity to others until you find those who are willing to join you in the enterprise. It's the same with presenting David Saint Business Opportunity to your contacts. There will be those who won't listen but that doesn't mean the business doesn't work. You simply continue to look for those who are ready to listen, and there a whole lot of them out there.
