Today is New Year's Eve and we celebrate it in style at 44 Stanley Road. This is the most established precinct on the edge of downtown Joburg, 44 Stanley is a mixed-use development that fuses downtown urbanism with a subtle sophistication. A mix of carefully curated, bespoke stores and independent restaurants gives the centre an authenticity that runs through eating, drinking, shopping, working and living experiences. Shady arcades and green courtyards between what was once a series of industrial 1930's buildings make this a unique Johannesburg space.

At Bean There Coffee Company, South Africa's first roaster of certified Fairtrade, Organic African Coffee we witness the roasting process first-hand while enjoying a cappuccino or espresso and a slice of cake.

Thereafter we amble around the area which is a great alternative to malls with a variety of bespoke stores for fashion and accessories, homeware and gifts, specialist shops and services, and art and design.

Lunch is at Salvation Café.

Afternoon relaxation at Peachy which is a dine bar serving delicious cocktails, modern street food and the best vibe around.

Later we go to the movies at The Bioscope for a private movie session with popcorn and Coke.

Later it's time to get down for the New Year's Eve celebration at The Bioscope lobby bar and pizzeria.
